

Networking

Partners

IKT's main cooperation partners are the two IKT associations:

- IKT-Association of Network Operators with more than 130 public sewer operator companies
- IKT-Association of Industry with more than 70 companies from the private sector such as pipe producers, rehab contractors, engineering consultancies

IKT has also close contacts to universities and academic institutions. Further, IKT experts are members of various standardisation committees and professional associations.

IKT-Association of Network Operators —	IKT-Förderverein der Netzbetreiber e.V.
IKT-Association of Industry —	Verein der Wirtschaft zur Förderung des IKT e.V.
University of Bochum —	 The logo of the University of Bochum (RUB) is displayed. It consists of a dark blue square with the letters 'RUB' in white, bold, sans-serif font.

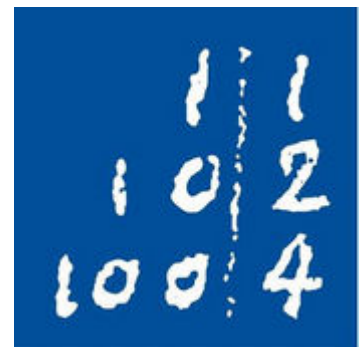

Westphalian University of Applied Sciences

University of the German Federal Armed Forces, Munich

University of Hannover

University of Weimar

University of Applied Sciences
Ruhr West

DIBt – German Institute for Construction Technology

DIN – German Institute for Standardization

CEN – European Committee for Standardization

DWA – German Association for Water, Wastewater and Waste

–

DVGW – German Technical and Scientific Association for Gas and Water

–

FGSV – Research association for road and transportation

–

IRWA – International Right of Way Association

–

VLARIO, Belgium

–

WRc – Water Research Centre, UK

